

MAKING THE GARDEN

By Byron Williams.

Oh, gee! such luck I never saw!
A boy is just a slave to-day.
He's got to dig and work like sin
Most every time he want to play!

Why, darn th' luck, my ma she sez,
This garden simply must be made!
Now she's gone in 't' git th' seeds,
An' left me workin' with this spade!

Oh, my! I wonder which'll win,
With Skinny Jones I play my base?
(I wish there wouldn't nothin' grow
Not anywhere upon this place!)

Dugone th' garden, anyhow,
Just now when I have got a kite
That sails 'most like a airship does,
Away up high, clear out of sight!

An' here's a lot of fish worms, too,
An' suckers bitin'! Gee! what fun!

But I can't never go to fish
'Til this here garden work is done!

There never was a game of ball
But what I got to—or I should—
Stay home and help with this or that,
Er else pitch in an' saw th' wood!

An' when th' circus is in town—
I better leave there, ma allows,
About an hour before it's dark,
To go and hustle home them cows!

Oh, dear! this garden work is hard!
I'm tired, too—almost—I feel
Like I was goin' 't' faint and fall!
I guess I'm sick, it seems so real!

You bet! The score was 6 to 10.
We walloped 'em at every play!
I made a home run, too, by jing!
I'm glad that I was sick to-day!

MY OL' MISSOURI

By Byron Williams.

When th' snow is on th' landscape
An' they's diamonds in th' air,
With the mercury at zero
An' the frost 'most everywhere,
Then I like my ol' Missouri
Corn-cob pipe, with bamboo stem—
Fer they ain't no comforts goin'
Thet kin near compare with them!

When icicles is a-hangin'
Fr'm th' eaves of every roof,
I kin bundle up all comfy
Clean fr'm body spot 't' hoof!
Chills the marrow-bones a trifle,
But a red bandann' wipe
Keeps m' ears all warm an' toasty,
While my nose jest hugs that pipe!

I kin go out in th' winter
When th' frigid north wind blows!
Keepin' all the feelers feelin'
Of th' frost bites on their noses!

I jest smoke up big and hefty,
Warmin' that olfactory knob!
Flod, a-puffin' and a-pullin'
On my sweet Missouri cob!

Folks kin have their fine havanners,
Aromatic cigarettes!
All I wants is my ol' corn-cob,
An' 't' smoke 't' spilets!

I ain't selfish! No, ner on'y,
But I'm willin' ter admit
Thet if anybody smokes it,
Thet there someone will git fit!

Fer I luv my ol' Missouri,
Full or pure Virginny leaf;
Then I'm mighty wigh ter heaven
Smokin' it-thet's my belief!

Yes, I like my ol' Missouri
Corn-cob pipe with bamboo stem—
Fer they ain't no comforts goin'
Thet kin near compare with them!

MISS DORIS KEANE, STAGE BEAUTY.

One of the most stunning beauties on the stage is Miss Doris Keane, who is also a talented actress of the younger class. She is one of Charles Frohman's recent successes. She played a full season at the Hudson theater, New York, in Henry Arthur Jones' "Hypocrites," making a pronounced hit. Miss Keane is an American beauty.

COMMANDER PEARY IN ARCTIC DRESS.

Commander Robert E. Peary of the United States navy is an interesting figure in any garb. Here he is shown in arctic costume. For fifteen years Commander Peary has been making dashes toward the north pole. On his latest voyage he went farther north than any other explorer has been able to go. The famous explorer is fifty-one years old and is a native of Pennsylvania. He is the most persistent and consistent arctic explorer on record.

ALLA NAZIMOVA, THE RUSSIAN ACTRESS.

The beautiful Russian actress Mme. Alla Nazimova, who has been playing in New York throughout the winter, has made a wonderful hit with her American audiences. One of the most remarkable of her accomplishments is her ability to speak English sufficiently well after one season's experience to use that language in her acting. Mme. Nazimova's native tongue is Russian. During the winter she appeared in Ibsen's drama.

WHEN A QUEEN BATHES.

Spanish Royalty in Seclusion Sports with the Sea Waves.

The fashionable bathing resort of Spain is in San Sebastian. But do women in that well-nigh tropical climate wear startling costumes? By no means. Their garb is as staid as that worn on the English coasts; very charming, and becoming, but without reserved and dignified. The material is apt to be dark blue serge trimmed with white braid or crimson serge. At Trouville, in France, the bathers are not rarely annoyed—or not annoyed?—by the leveling of opera glasses, which practice is rigorously forbidden in the Spanish resort. This prohibition is partly explained by the frequent presence of the queen mother, and also the young queen, who, of course, are left perfectly unmolested. Their bathing box is very picturesque. It is built in the Moorish style, with minarets on either side, and the dome in the middle surmounted by the royal crown in gold. When in use, it is slowly rolled down to sea, and royalty can bathe in perfect privacy, though the "box" is not inclosed.

Passing Beliefs.

Read the famous chapter in Victor Hugo's "Shakespeare" about the precise knowledge of the world and the universe as imparted by the philosophers and learned men of Greece, and you will wonder how the science of this century will be regarded by the men of 2500 A. D.

You smile at odd medical prescriptions. Here is one of the seventeenth century: "Earthworms salt and cleansed and cut in pieces and chopped, a good mess of pottage made thereof with oatmeal and water and eaten by them that have the black jaundice, doth perfectly cure them thereof, though it is never so long rooted. This is very true and hath been oftentimes proved." Yet we read in a contemporary that the thyroid gland of a sheep is an excellent thing to stimulate men and women to "curiosity and a desire to study."

Called.

The comedian boarder who owed five weeks' back pay was in one of those facetious moods.

"Madam," he chuckled, spearing a green strawberry and holding it above his saucer, "I understand that you entered the boarding-house business merely to save enough money to become an actress. Am I right?"

The landlady stared at him coldly. "Yes, Mr. Higball," she responded in rasping tones. "I am boarding beats at present so that I may be able to beat the boards later on."

And then the comedian boarder left the table without even finishing his dessert.
